
The red boxes are the original planned sizes of the baseboards. This eight board configuration followed what we had done on previous layouts. Key is that with this arrangement it is not possible to fit integrated legs to the boards. We have taken time to reconfigure the layout design to a larger arrangement of four boards each with their own self contained folding legs